Famous French Police Commissioner Arranged First Meeting With Delacroix.

Special Cablegram to The Star. LONDON, June 24.-In the reminiscences of M. Xavier Paoli, the famous French police commissary, just published here, and which are causing quite a sensation, the inside story of the late King of the Belgians and his affection for Baroness Vaughan is told at some length. Incidentally, the romance between King Leopold and Cleo de Merode is shattered, for M. Paoli asserts that the monarch only met the dancer a few times in his life. The story of how Leopold met Blanche Caroline Delacroix, the beautiful Roumanian girl who later became Baroness Vaughan, is an interesting one. At
